

While the thought of a discussion on constitutional matters may seem daunting and far removed from daily life, the exercise of public power has a direct impact on us all on an ongoing basis.

This resource provides a framework for Pakeha / Taiwi organisations to use for discussion within their organisations, as well as for wider community discussions, on moving towards Treaty-based and values-based constitutional arrangements.

This is an opportunity to contribute to discussions about developing constitutional arrangements that would ensure a better, fairer society for all New Zealanders - with protection for the guarantees of the Treaty, for human rights, for the environment, and for real democracy - now and for future generations.

Time for change: A framework for community discussion on values-based and Treaty-based constitutional arrangements, December 2012. Softcover, ISBN 978-0-473-23400-3.
