

Abstract

Si Ma Cai ethnic market in the Vietnam Highlands

This article describes about the Si Ma Cai ethnic market in the mountains of the Lao Cai Province, Northern Vietnam. The Si Ma Cai market is of very high importance for the Mhong ethnic people where they socialise, buy commodities coming from elsewhere and sell their own products and, make money. The tourism is becoming an important cash income for the Mhong people by way of selling their handicrafts and clothes to the visitors.

Click the link below to view the full document:

<http://topics.developmentgateway.org/trade/rc/ItemDetail.do~1118329?itemId=1118329>

Please send comments to:

anuraw@ihug.co.nz